

RHNNH = Reconstruction of Human & Natural History

To understand the harsh pace opposite „chronology criticism“ &c, reference is made to the binding implications as well as to the purpose of the RHNNH:—

History: the past & therefore true, unchangeable singular chain of singular events.

History hotchpotching: falsified standing against true history.

True view of history: historiography assembled like a puzzle from singular events in just one possible, singularly fitting way.

Falsified view of history: historiography arbitrarily hotchpotched like a mosaic from true as well as invented events, &/or from their mirror images, &/or from fantasies (according to ideals or wishful thinking).

Though for the last ½ century it has been proven ever more authentically that the collective is suffering under the repressed excitation background of cataclysmic events in the solar system in historical time, wherefrom results compulsive neurotic irrational behaviour in holocaust, war, terrorism & destructive technology, neither in conventional teaching nor in „chronology criticism“ are found the least signs to draw consequences from those facts. Therefore it is to be repeated: lastly guilty of the torture & the death of myriads of human beings are all those, who consciously &/or carelessly &/or unwittingly neglect to orientate their historiography on the certainty of the repressed natural history. History is neither a philosophy, nor a religion, nor a (exo- or esoteric) science: rather, its sole role has to be seen as a psychoanalytic tool for clearing up the collective repression with the goal of preventing irrational collective behaviour.

As for the rest, history & physics hotchpotching are easily recognized by their utterly imbecile actualism &/or on their not taking any notice of the last series of exoterrestrially caused cataclysms, which until Modern Time for generations ruled the period of SchizoTime, which only 650 years ago in the middle of the Trecento ended with the LGJ (Last Great Jolt).

Justification of the RHNNH rests on the will to cause the collective by suitable methods to initiate its self-enlightenment & thus bring itself to rational behaviour. Therefore the RHNNH's position plainly remains above the distributors of physics & history hotchpotching & justification avoiders, who don't submit to the insight of incontestable evidence.

From history, physics, astronomy &c NG discussions some key stupidities in refusing common sense insights have well crystallized: (1) that because dinosaurs couldn't live under present gravitational conditions, gravity is variable; (2) that because of the logic inherent to the Joshua Event & the documented calendar reforms the earth underwent changes in her movements some 6 ½ centuries ago only &, (2a) because such changes could only have exoterrestrial causes, the observational parameters of visible planets also underwent modifications &, (2b) because none of these transformations can ever be reproduced, any astronomical retro-calculation of pre-Trecento observational data is impossible &, (2c) therefore, history up to the renaissance remains unspecified; (3) that any movement in the universe which can be expressed as following rules, up to celestial bodies of all sizes & formation, must consequently result from a driving (pressing) & stabilizing force, or such uninfluenced substances could not be subject to any laws;

&, as further consequences of the primary insights & still less to anyone's linking, (4) that geological "ages" have to be seen as events, the times in between being something quite different; that (5) the idea of deities is directly reducible to the observation of celestial bodies &, (5a) therefore, their service is synonymous with irrational behaviour; & then, generally (6), that the immense "knowledge" generated by all the philosophies, religions, & exo- as well as esoteric sciences, comprises nothing but the repression of observed data into a hotchpotch of ridiculous theories, the difference of which to true – though unconscious – observation generates the potential for irrational behaviour ending in holocaust, war, terrorism & destructive technology. Before defending any philosophic, religious or scientific theory against the RHNNH it is advised, therefore, (7) to think at least twice about the values of the case.
